ABOUT NATRAJ

Natraj Publishers is a boutique publishing firm in New Delhi, India. It was founded in Dehra Dun by Sohan Lal Arora in 1965. Its areas of specialisation are environment and ecology, defence and security and under ETCH, the general trade imprint, Natraj publishes children's literature and popular nonfiction titles. We are proud to bring to our readers distinguished voices from across the globe on a range of subjects.

The firm expanded further with Sohan Lal Arora's son, Upendra Arora at the helm. He was awarded the Golden Award for his contribution to publishing by the FPBAI in 2016.

His daughter, Divya Arora, an LSE graduate is now in the saddle. She was selected for the Goldman Sachs 10,000 Women Entrepreneurship Programme, an international scholarship at the Indian School of Business, Hyderabad. Natraj was nominated in 2017 to be a part of the prestigious Motovun Group of International Publishers (MGIP), the second Indian Publisher ever to be nominated in the 40 years since the group was founded. In 2019, Natraj became a full member of MGIP by a unanimous vote.

Natraj aims to match international quality in editorial, print and production and is fortunate to have received praise for the same from our readers. We hope you enjoy browsing our catalogue.

DIFFERENT PLACE.
THE SAME PEOPLE.

To rephrase Walt Disney, "We keep moving forward, opening new doors and doing new things."

Natraj 2.0, is now open at 52, Rajpur Road, opposite Van Bhawan, Dehra Dun. While the location is new, what makes Natraj remain the same is the curation, the people, the stories, the memories and the love for books and nature that has shaped us over the years.

As you wander through the bookshop, each nook and corner reveals a little of our history and memories, while remaining rooted in the present. We hope the experience goes beyond simply browsing books—to slowing down, looking around and finding a moment of serenity, where nature, stories and the past quietly meet.

Our relocated store is as much a tribute to our city, and state, just as much as it is a tribute to bookselling and booksellers. We are humbled that Natraj continues to be the space for the literary community to gather, engage in dialogue, exchange ideas, discover new perspectives and share meaningful conversations.

A different place. But the same Natraj spirit.

On a High

Journeys in Ladakh, Lahaul and Spiti

Ann Mukerjee

Foreword: H.H. Jigmed Wangchuk Namgyal
9788181583697; PB; Rs. 399

This book chronicles Ann's decade-long love affair with Ladakh, Lahaul, and Spiti — a vivid account of courage, curiosity, and the spirit of exploration. Choosing the open road later in life, she discovers not only new landscapes but new dimensions of herself. With language as clear and probing as mountain air, Ann Mukerjee demonstrates how facing the lofty, rugged beauty of the world and the richness of its people can awaken vastness within—a space where wonder, acceptance, renewal and peace take root.

Mountainous Wilderness of Spiti

A Hidden World

Devinder Chauhan

Foreword: H.H. The Dalai Lama
9789334086492; HB; Rs. 1875

This spectacular book provides us rare views of the vibrant fauna, rich culture and enigmatic mountains of Spiti. It brings in years of experience of the author sharing the depth of knowledge he has collated about the mountain ranges of Spiti. The anecdotes in the book bring to life the numerous trekking expeditions undertaken to study and observe local wildlife.

Big Cat Encounters

True Stories from Uttarakhand

Kr. Baljeet Singh
9788181583352; PB; Rs. 399

Set in the hill state of Uttarakhand in India, this book is a collection of real life accounts of the author's decades-long experience with encountering man-eaters. He shares valuable insights about the habits and behaviour of leopards and their adaptability in the face of increasing human encroachment.

Along with his observational skills and fieldwork, he also weaves in the ground reality — an urgent need to understand the changing habitat of leopards and manage the increasing numbers of cases of human-wildlife conflict in the state.

The Fireside Anthology of Thrilling Jungle Stories

Edited by Harnihal Singh Sidhu
9788181583741; HB; Rs. 799

Tiger! Tiger!

Arjan Singh

Foreword: Valmik Thapar
9788181583642; HB; Rs. 699

The author played a unique part in the rescue operation, rearing and returning to the jungle a zoo-born tigress called Tara, whom he had acquired as a cub. It is his detailed observation of Tara in the wild, and of the cubs which she bore to a wild mate, that gives his account its special fascination. From countless hours spent in the jungle, he has distilled a wealth of new knowledge. He shows that tigers, far from being monstrous, have a much more sophisticated social life than lions, and that they are tolerant and considerate towards each other.

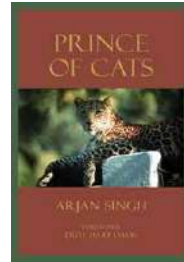

The Legend of the Man-eater

Arjan Singh

Foreword: Simon Commander
9788181583635; HB; Rs. 699

The Legend of the Maneater is a book with a definite purpose. It aims to spread the message that wildlife, particularly the tiger and other large predators, must be protected far more effectively than at present: 'This is essential not only because animals are wonderful in themselves, but because their presence in the wild is the surest way of stemming environmental degradation and the best indicator of the environmental health of our planet.'

Prince of Cats

Arjan Singh

Foreword: Duff Hart-Davis
9788181583628; HB; Rs. 699

Living in the north of Uttar Pradesh, on the border with Nepal, and seeing how the local leopard population had dwindled almost to nothing, the author determined to find out whether it would be possible to bring up a leopard cub in his house and return it to the jungle. The story of how he taught first Prince, and then the twin sisters Harriet and Juliette, the ways of the forest is enthralling from start to finish.

Arjan Singh

Foreword: Nilanjana S. Roy
9780224024891 (English)
9788181583734 (Hindi); PB; Rs. 399

Elie was the most unusual dog who arrived uninvited at the home of the celebrated Indian naturalist, Billy Arjan Singh, when she was a few months old, and stayed for the rest of her life to become his inseparable companion. This book is a moving memoir of her, recalling the highlights in the life of an extraordinary dog and the amazing adventures which they had together in the jungles of northern India.

The background is a dense, abstract composition of numerous overlapping, diagonal and curved strokes in a wide variety of colors including red, blue, green, yellow, orange, purple, and pink. The strokes vary in thickness and intensity, creating a vibrant, textured effect. In the lower-middle section, there is a white rectangular box with rounded corners and a thin blue border. Inside this box, the words "GENERAL INTEREST" are written in a bold, black, sans-serif font.
